CANDIES.

The best place in the city to buy candies for the holidays is here at the Busy Corner. We have made unusual preparations with some of the best manufacturers of pure wafers in the country. We make a specialty of two kinds. Our 12c mixtures are equal in purity and variety to any and all selling at 25c per lb. They represent fully twenty-five different kinds.

Our 12c mixtures are the same as others are selling at the rate of 10c. This assortment includes a most delicious assortment of chocolates, with cream and nut fillings, which are delicious, luscious, pure, and fresh. We have made special prices for churches, Sunday and day schools, entertainments, and for private families, where quantities up to 25 lbs. or more are used. We also furnish neat little half-lb. boxes with the above selling.

A STUDENT DEBATE ON TRUSTS.

Georgetown Law School Men to Argue the Question.

The "trust question" is the theme upon which four Georgetown College students will debate next Thursday evening in Gaston Hall, under the auspices of the Law School Debating Society. The question has been framed as follows: "Resolved, That the tariff be abolished on all articles manufactured, produced, or controlled by a trust."

The speakers will be: Affirmative, John W. Adams, California; John J. Mahoney, Idaho; negative, Phil A. Gray, Wisconsin; W. F. Alderton, Illinois.

The decision will be rendered by the following judges: Mr. Justice McKenna, of the United States Supreme Court; F. W. Hackett, Assistant Secretary of the Navy; and W. L. Chambers, of the Spanish Treaty Claims Commission.

The Death Record.

The following deaths for twenty-four hours were reported at the Health Department up to noon yesterday: Mary O'Brien, 87 years; Marianna Bradley Kennedy, 80 years; Annie Conates, 54 years; Arthur C. Delevigne, 45 years; Anna Firose Spicuzza, 36 years; Mary Agnes Roseberry, 25 years; Richard Turner, 22 years; John Francis Ross, 20 years; George J. C. Meyer, 4 years; Florence Thomas, 8 years; infant of Lillie Meyers, 3 months.

Readings for the Blind.

The following have volunteered for the reading hour in the room for the blind at the Congressional Library for this week: Monday, Dr. Thomas Robinson; Tuesday, Miss Beatrice Demarest Lloyd; Wednesday, Miss Rebecca H. Behrend (plans); Thursday, Mr. H. H. Stetson; Friday, Mrs. Charles Howard Hinton; Saturday, Mrs. Julia McAdoo; Mr. Ford Hiney (plans).

The Reason Why.

Slack—Why not? Nobody knows just how old the earth is.—Catholic Standard.

CODE LAWS FOR THE DISTRICT.

Important Amendments Proposed by Senator Pritchard.

Senator Pritchard of North Carolina has introduced a bill amending the new code of laws for the District of Columbia, which goes into effect on January 1, 1902.

The code was very incomplete and the amendments, which there are several hundred, will cover all omissions. One amendment permits divorce on seven different grounds. The code, as it stands at present, permits divorce on but one ground.

Another amendment prohibits the present practice of justices of the peace being interested in firms which bring suits against others and of being technically in the employ of these firms. One section is amended to read as follows:

"No justice of the peace during his term of office shall engage in the practice of the law, subject to the penalty of removal from his office."

Another amendment provides: "In any suit brought before a justice of the peace the defendant, his agent or attorney, may have the case removed to the next nearest justice, upon filing an affidavit with the justice laying the writ, on the return day or day of trial of the action, that he does not believe said justice will give him a fair and impartial trial."

It is also stipulated in an amendment that a judgment issued by a justice of the peace in the District of Columbia can remain in force only three years. No action pending before a justice at the time the code goes into effect shall abate, but such action may not be proceeded with until all parties interested have been given at least two days' notice.

Another amendment provides that whenever any person residing in the District of Columbia and owning an estate, real or personal, shall be declared a drunkard, the equity court may, upon application of any creditor or relative of such person, appoint a committee to manage and control such property.

Under the head of wills, the following amendment is offered:

"Whoever, during the life of a testator or after his death, shall, for a fraudulent purpose, take and carry away a will, codicil, or other testamentary instrument, or destroy, mutilate, or secrete the same, whether it relates to personal or real property, shall suffer imprisonment for not more than five years."

The section dealing with juries is amended by the following paragraph:

"In all trials for capital offenses the accused and the United States shall each be entitled to twenty peremptory challenges. In trials for offenses punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary the accused and the United States shall each be entitled to ten peremptory challenges. In all other criminal cases, each party shall be entitled to three peremptory challenges; and if there are several defendants, they shall be treated as one person in the allowance of such challenges."

Senator Pritchard expects to have his bill passed without opposition before the holiday recess so that the code will go into effect carrying the amendments. The measure is now before the Committee on the District of Columbia.

DIED AT A FUNERAL.

A Pallbearer Succumbs to Heart Disease in Church.

William Pinckney Scaggs assisted in depositing the casket containing the remains of his friend's wife in the little church at Branchville yesterday, and, turning away, fell dead upon the altar.

The office was crowded with relatives and friends of the deceased woman—Mrs. John Dural, of Branchville, Md.—whose funeral they had come to attend. The mourners, deeply veiled, had followed down the aisle after the crepe-covered coffin borne by four pallbearers.

Some had taken their seats and others were still standing. The organist was about to sound the solemn strains of the funeral hymn, when suddenly another was stricken, and two lay dead instead of one before the altar.

Mr. Scaggs had been one of the pallbearers who assisted in bringing the body of Mrs. Dural into the church. With the others he had followed the hearse from the residence of the deceased to the church, of which both had long been members.

He had for some time been a sufferer from heart disease, and the exertion proved too great for him. The coffin had just been placed before the altar. He released his grasp upon the handle which he had held, straightened himself up and fell forward, striking his head upon the rail.

At first those about him thought he had stumbled. As he did not rise, they bent over him and saw him breathe his last before he could be lifted to his feet.

Excitement was added to sorrow as his wife and children rushed to his aid. He had just been placed before the altar. He released his grasp upon the handle which he had held, straightened himself up and fell forward, striking his head upon the rail.

Mr. Scaggs was one of the leading men in Prince George's county, where he was born and lived for fifty years, and held the respect and esteem of all who knew him. For many years he was the proprietor of a general merchandise store at Branchville.

He was for several terms a member of the House of Delegates in the Maryland Legislature from Prince George's county. He had also served as sheriff of his county and as county commissioner. At the election last month he was chosen as road commissioner for the county, but had not entered upon the discharge of the duties of that office.

He was a prominent member of the Methodist Church in Branchville.

Mr. Scaggs was twice married, and leaves a widow and four daughters, all of whom reside at Branchville. No arrangements have as yet been made for his funeral.

HENRY M. ROSE PRESIDENT.

The Michigan State Association.

At the annual meeting of the Michigan State Association, held at the Queen Banquet Hall, Seventh and G northwest, Friday evening, the following were elected officers for the year 1902: President, Henry M. Rose; Vice President, Edward B. Moore; Secretary, Benjamin A. Harlan; Treasurer, B. H. Brockway.

The Hon. Andrew Jackson Harlan, of Savannah, Mo., an invited guest, delivered an address. The venerable ex-member of the Thirty-first and Thirty-third Congresses is now in the eighty-seventh year of his age. His record in Congress was rendered fifty years ago.

SEEKING A WOMAN'S RELEASE.

State Department Aid Invoked in Miss Eastwick's Case.

As the basis of a probable application to the British Foreign Office, the legal officers of the State Department are considering a petition made by the family of Miss Eastwick, the American girl imprisoned in London after conviction of a charge of raising a stock certificate.

The appeal of this Government will be made to the Under Secretary of State, who is the only authority having jurisdiction over the case, making that Miss Eastwick be sent here for treatment in a sanitarium. It is said the young woman was deranged at the time of her trial, and is in that condition now, but under the British law the court will not allow that fact to affect its decision of the abstract question of the innocence or guilt of the accused, nor even the nature of the sentence.

A large quantity of evidence has been sent to the State Department to support the statements of Miss Eastwick's past and present state of impaired health. The Department will transmit these proofs to the embassy in London with instructions to exert every endeavor possible under the circumstances.

SMOTHERED THE BABY.

Colored Mother Accidentally Causes Death of Her Infant.

The five-month-old child of Frances Edwards, colored, is believed to have been accidentally smothered to death by its mother yesterday morning on the Shaw Place, near Kenilworth, D. C. The mother has been notified, and is investigating the case.

Due to the cold weather, Mrs. Edwards took her child to bed with her Friday night to keep it warm. When she awoke this morning the child was dead. The heavy cover had been so tightly tucked around it, that the air was excluded and the child was smothered.
